

Church Based Strategy for Persuasive Evangelism: The Christian – Are all the Lords People Evangelists?

People need to be given reasons to believe. The church has those reasons. And yet we seem to be finding it increasingly difficult to communicate them. In this series of seminars we will look at how we can develop a church based strategy for persuasive evangelism. Each of the four parts will consist of a 20 minute talk followed by discussion and interaction. In part 3 we look at the issue of Christians being witnesses in their work, homes and communities. Can we train people to ‘evangelise’? Should we expect members of the church to be evangelists? What are some of the obstacles in the way?

David Robertson is the minister of St Peter's Free Church in Dundee, Scotland (a church that is best known for being the church of Robert Murray McCheyne) and the Director of the Solas Centre for Public Christianity. He is the author of Awakening (a contemporary account of McCheyne's life) and The Dawkins Letters. The latter has resulted in him being invited to debate and discuss all over the UK and elsewhere in Europe. This has been done in cafes, bars, libraries, universities, pubs, restaurants, village halls, and even occasionally in churches! David is a chaplain at the University of Dundee, columnist, broadcaster and debater. His interests include history, reading, music, politics, theology and football – he supports Dundee FC although his other team is Barcelona! David is married to Annabel and they have three children; Andrew (26), Becky (24) and Emma Jane (15).

I. Reaching Out
