

Principles for Recruiting Effective Ministry Volunteers

Learn from a seasoned recruiter the challenges of recruiting effective ministry volunteers (or paid staff) and the five C's of selection (character, chemistry, competence, confidence, cash) that will enable you to not only select workers but help you determine when it is time to let them move on.

Jim Cecy is a regular speaker at the European Leadership Forum. He serves as Senior Pastor-Teacher of Campus Bible Church in Fresno, California. Jim is also founder and President of JARON Ministries International, a training ministry for Christian leaders in the U.S. and abroad. He has a Masters of Divinity in Bible Exposition from Talbot Theological Seminary and a Doctorate of Ministry from Western Seminary. He is a conference and seminar speaker for hundreds of churches, schools, seminars, conference centers, Christian groups, and denominations in U.S. and abroad. In addition to other books and materials, he is the author of The Purity War: A Biblical Guide to Living in an Immoral World. Jim has been married for forty years and has nine grandchildren. II. The Five C's of Selection

- CHARACTER

Are they people of integrity?

- CHEMISTRY

Are they the right fit?

- COMPETENCE

Are they capable of doing the job?

- CONFIDENCE

Are you confident in them?

- CASH

Are they worth the price (in terms of money, time, resources)?

Any questions?
